

Dressmaking and Tailoring.

This entire Department has been reorganized. Our Dressmakers, Miss KASSAU and Miss BARSCHIES, have both spent the summer in Paris, and have just returned with many choice models and materials.

Our new Ladies' Tailoring Department, in charge of Mr. KEEFE, has had a most auspicious beginning. We are prepared to make every kind of woman's garment requiring the skill of men tailors.

CONTROVERSY OVER REMOVAL OF A. G. KREUTZER'S HOUSE.

Mayor Issued Permit Despite Protests and Bethania Lutheran School Trustees May Ask Court for a Restraining Order.

At No. 3712 Natural Bridge road is a small, one-story frame building belonging to A. G. Kreutzer, a butcher, which is about to be moved from its present location some 30 feet farther south and 25 feet west. Two downy-looking larks, taking the place of the ordinary foundation with out all is in readiness to start the building on its journey this morning.

The house itself is no worse than 1890, but when it is a stable manure it could not have created greater trouble in the neighborhood.

Adjoining the house is the brick parsonage school building of the Bethania Evangelical Lutheran Church. This building was built in 1902 and since that time has been freely patronized by the members of the church and the parsonage school board. By the members of this church and the parsonage school board a vigorous protest was entered against the removal of the Kreutzer building. Building Commissioner Longfellow refused to grant a permit to Kreutzer to move the house, but the latter took no appeal to the Mayor, who issued a permit over the head of Building Commissioner Longfellow. In consequence of this and the fact that the house is in a bad state of repair, the removal of the building will probably begin today.

Both Sides Have Adherents. Of course everybody in the block knows of the trouble and is talking of it. Some are divided between the contending parties. All the church people think it an outrage to permit such a structure to be located within a few feet of the parsonage school, while Kreutzer and his friends insist it is simply spite work. The church people say that the presence of the building greatly increases the danger from fire to their school, and therefore it is proper Kreutzer says that the school board is mad because he bought the lot, as it was sold, and is now trying to prevent him from using his property as he chooses. Notwithstanding the Mayor's permit it is likely a contest will be made in the courts and injunction proceedings instituted.

John C. Hoover, secretary of the School Board, said yesterday: "The idea that we

A. G. Kreutzer's frame dwelling, the contemplated moving of which is opposed by the Bethania Evangelical Lutheran Church, located two doors west of it on Natural Bridge road.

SPECIAL SUBURBAN TRAIN VIA THE FRISCO LINE, Account of V. P. PARADE.

Leaves Valley Park 6:00 p. m. Returning, leaves St. Louis at 10:45, running through to Pacific, Mo.

This reason that an injunction is asked. That effect this proceeding will have on the annual meeting to-morrow cannot be predicted. It is said that Mr. Edwin Gould and the parties having a controlling interest in the St. Louis Southern are desirous of effecting an alliance with the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain System—that will virtually amount to an absorption of the Cotton Belt system.

The minority stockholders, who are fighting this plan, are said to be backed by a syndicate, which is endeavoring to obtain control of the Cotton Belt, with a view of consolidating it with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. A traffic agreement now exists between these companies, which has been productive of marvelous results, and has, it appears, opened the eyes of the Goulds as to the true value of the St. Louis Southern properties, which have not been developed as they should have been many years ago.

The syndicate is said to be in the field for a long and lasting fight.
